THE ROMANCE OF A PIRATE.

A Plot to Drown a Gaiety at Sea.

Most sensational evidence has been given, says a London Exchange, in a case before the Dublin Chancery Division, in which Mr. Edwin Barnham Swifte claims that he and his brother are lawful sons of the late Lord Castlingford, and therefore entitled to share in their father's personal estate, which he said to be worth £20,000 a year.

The facts are singular. The person known as the late Lord Castlingford married Miss Hopkins, the daughter of a merchant, but it is alleged for the defence that he already had a wife living in America, known as the Baroness de Witzel. After the death of the claimant's mother Lord Castlingford married again and his widow is contesting the claim on the ground that the claimant and his brother were illegitimate. Mr. Swifte yesterday proceeded to relate to the Court the strange story of his career.

It was the intention of his father, he said, that he should first go into the merchant service, and thus get into the royal Navy. When he was told he was to go to sea he ran away and hid in a plantation.

He was supplied with a most extraordinary sea chest, inscribed "The Hon. G. B. Swifte." He went over to London and travelled to Plymouth, but the captain refused to allow him to join his ship, the Sandringham. Afterwards he joined the ship, the Royal Albert, bound for Sydney. He again found the Sandringham at Calcutta, but it afterwards went down with 700 coolies on board.

It was at Calcutta that he heard of his father's death. When he came home he saw Mrs. Swifte (his stepmother). She said she supposed he was lost in the Sandringham. She told him and his brother she would give each of them £200, and that they must seek their living elsewhere.

Witness and his brother immediately left, he going to his sister Mrs. O'Flaherty, in London, and subsequently joining the Monarch, an old quagmire, bound for New Zealand.

The Solicitor-General said: "Did you give any instructions for formulating a charge against the defendant—Mrs. Swifte—of having, with the assistance of her relatives, endeavoured to entrap you to get into a ship the captain of which was to settle it?—Oh, no; an unworthy ship."

Counsel: And, consequently, to drown you?—If she was lost.

And was it done for the express purpose of settling the charge?—There is great suspicion about it.

To secure your death?—That was the suspicion.

Do you charge that to-day?—Well, as far as suspicion goes, I was told on board the other vessel that I was sent away to be got rid of.

Mr. Swifte then stated that, when he was in a little village and starving for want of money he wrote to Mrs. Swifte for an advance of £10 to £12 to enable him to return to Canada, his adopted country.

Counsel called his attention to an interrogatory in which the charge was made that Mrs. Swifte, by corrupt means, induced claimant's solicitor to betray his clients.

Witness said that the solicitor referred to was his own wife's father. They all suspected that Mrs. Swifte had bribed his wife's father to betray his professional duty.

Mrs. O'Flaherty, sister of witness, and widow of Dr. O'Flaherty, London physician, said she was the daughter of the late Lord Castlingford, commonly called Viscount Castlingford. At the first Drawing Room held after the death of the Prince, Viscount Lord Castlingford was Lord Castlingford, and she was presented at the Hon. Miss Swifte. Her father attended the Lever, and she thought there was some dinner given him being presented Lord Castlingford.

He was married to Mrs. Swifte, her and he said, "No; I am Lord Castlingford. She was taken to the 'Lever' where her mother was buried, and her father pointed out the coffin with the name Viscountess Castlingford."

This case was adjourned.

SHARE REPORT

In their weekly share report, dated 1st December, Messrs Vernon and Smyth state:

Although we have no improvement to report in rates, a slightly better tone has been apparent in the market during the week under review. An impression seems to be gaining ground, among holders of stocks, that the recent steady rise in sterling exchange is not merely a flash in the pan, but has come to stay, at any rate for some time. The heavy rush to realize stocks for the sake of remitting money home has consequently been, to a certain extent, checked, and holders seem to be more content to wait for a better opportunity of realizing than the present affords. Ex. on London T.T. 2/1.

Banks.—Hongkong and Shanghai, with shares still in the market and no buyers, have failed to maintain their position and sales have been effected at $375, at which a few odd lots have changed hands. A small demand at that rate however exists at time of closing without meeting with a response. Nationals unchanged and without business. Marine Insurance.—Unions are procurable in small lots at $750, but without sales. In Canton we have nothing to report. China Traders have been placed during the week at $58, $58½ and $59, closing firm at the last rate. North China have ruled quiet with small sales at $170. Yangtze without any local business are quoted higher in Shanghai at $170. Fire Insurance.—Hongkong have changed hands at $335 and sales of China are reported at $26.

Shipping.—Hongkong, Canton and Macao have declined to $255 after small sales at that. India have ruled neglected at $95. Douglas are enquired for at $35 without bringing any shares in the market.

Refinery.—China Sugars remain without business if we except a few transactions in shares carried forward over the settlements at various rates, which would give no indication of the market. At time of closing a few shares are obtainable at $215 and probably a little lower rate would be accepted. Lucens have changed hands at $21, $23 and $25, closing with buyers at the last rate.

Mining.—Nothing to report under this heading.

Docks, Wharves, and Godowns.—Hongkong and Whampoa Docks have further declined to $165 with some sales at that rate. Kowloon Wharves have been in a steady demand at $105 without bringing any shares on the market. Farmanas are quoted in Shanghai at $16, 158 buyers.

Lands, Hotels and Buildings.—Hongkong Lands have been placed in small lots at $125, and close with sellers at that rate. Hongkong Hotels have declined to $149, and Humphreys to $12½ with sales. Cotton Mills.—Eros have advanced to $15 with buyers; other stocks under this heading remain unchanged.

Miscellaneous.—China Providents have been negotiated at the reduced rate of $9.25. Green Islands at $28½, and Watsons at $12½ ex dividend, the last named closing with further sellers at $12½, and buyers at $12.

MUSIC AND DIVORCE.

Woman's Pathetic Letter.

As evidence against a lady charged by her husband with unfaithfulness to him, a letter written with the professed object of making such a charge impossible was read in the Divorce Court yesterday the London Daily Mirror.

This paradox came about through the fact that the co-respondent, Mr. Ernest William Eldridge, at present in Canada, and formerly living with his father at Brighton, made a confession with regard to the lady, Mrs. Rose Fanny Frowd. The confession, it is now said, was obtained from him by undue pressure.

Mrs. Frowd, against whom her husband, a railwayman living in Eastbourne, three years ago brought an unsuccessful divorce petition, with a gentleman not Mr. Eldridge, as co-respondent, was living in lodgings in Brighton, and got to know Mr. Eldridge through their both having musical tastes. He used to carry her banjo case for her after she had been taking lessons at a music academy.

One Sunday evening he met her after they had been to church, and they tried over some opera music at her lodgings. This incident is referred to in the letter, which reads as follows:-

Dear Ernest, - Frowd is on the warpath again. Don't worry. I believe we are safe. They are trying to get up a case against you and yourself. They have been to Miss B. (respondent's landlady), and asked her how many times she has been there.

She told them, and also that she had been with us all the time. They know you came on Sunday evening, but they did not know when. Miss B. told them I met you at church. So you came home with me on the tram for a little music it being a rather bad night. They did not know you had been before, so, dear boy, you are safe. If asked questions, admit you met me at the 'Odds' (Oldfield's hall).

Say we met after the theatre and dance. Don't be certain about dates. Say we saw 'Faust' and 'Tannhauser' together. Too many saw me to deny that. Swear blind all other statements are lies.

I don't think there is anything else to put you up to.

Don't ever admit ever having kissed me. As for - and - it's just all rot, but it helps you and me. Miss B. will stand by me, and I swear I will stand by you with my life, and, if necessary, that shall go. But all letters.

Be sure and burn this. I shall keep out of your way, and live as quietly as possible. Go to church as usual. They must not think we are afraid of one another. You can write to me. I will be true, and burn all the letters. Cheer up. Just one word about myself. Dear old Ernest, I am going blind. They say with crying. The world will be dark then. It's dark enough now, and, oh, what will it be if some day I shall not be about to see your dear face?

If, dear, I shall go to rest in the way you know, I will send you a ring. Have it made into a tie ring, and always keep it in remembrance of me.

I love you dearly. Good-night, dear old boy. - Yours now and always the same, Rose.

Evidence was given by private detectives that Mrs. Frowd and Eldridge had been seen to kiss one another when they met in the streets of Brighton, and to take strolls together arm-in-arm.

The witnesses on Mr. Frowd's side, who were present when Mr. Eldridge wrote his confession, denied that he did so after asserting his innocence for a long time. He made the admission, they said, immediately his father declared - My son cannot tell a lie!

The case was adjourned.

WEARY Walker. Here's a piece in his paper that says it's better to lie to a woman if the truth would make her unhappy.

SERIOUS BLADDER AND URINARY TROUBLES.

11, Blind Street, Tipperary, Ireland. DEAR Sir, - I write to acknowledge the benefit I have derived from your Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. For nearly a month, I suffered intense pain in the bladder; as the water reached the bladder, it caused me terrible pain, and I had to pass urine every half-hour. I tried several 'remedies' but received no relief until I began with Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. These have been a real boon to me, and I am now in a perfect state of health; all the pain and urinary trouble have ceased, and I believe I am stronger than ever. I was without hesitation I give you permission to publish this, hoping it may be the means of saving others from the terrible suffering of kidney and bladder troubles.

I am, yours faithfully, (Signed) B. Desmond.

Some weeks later, Mr. Desmond wrote to again - I take this opportunity of saying that I am still enjoying first-rate health, and have had no symptoms of bladder trouble since my cure by Doan's Pills.

The earliest symptoms of urinary disorders should receive prompt attention, especially itching or smarting urine, cloudy or stringy urine, dribbling, sediment, gravel, itching in the back, burning pain or uncomfortable feeling in the loins, etc.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills begin their work first by cleansing and toning up the kidneys, rendering them to action and increasing the flow of urine, so that the uric acid poisons are washed out of the system.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills are 2/6 a box, or 1/3 for 6 boxes. To be had of all chemists and medicine dealers, or direct from the proprietors, The Foster-McClellan Co., 8, Wells Street, Oxford Street, London, England, post free on receipt of price.

BATTLE IN A TRAMCAR.

Three men fought a battle in a New York street car on October 22 and all of them were seriously injured. While the fight was being waged the car ran at top speed for half a mile, with the gong sounding an alarm and the passengers lying flat on the floor to escape the shower of bullets. Thos O'Brien, a truckman, jumped aboard the car at 31st Street, and, clapping a revolver to the conductor's head, ordered him to run the car full speed, as he was pursued by a gang, who intended to kill him.

A moment later two more men leaped on the car and attacked the first, all three using revolvers. When their weapons were empty they clinched and fought with the butts of their pistols. The car rushed on down the avenue, the motor-man pounding on the gong and the conductor shouting for the police, as far as 20th Street, where several policemen boarded it and secured the three combatants, all of whom were too badly injured to offer any resistance.

O'Brien was found to have received a bullet in the neck. His assailants gave the names of Henry Prang and Thomas Sullivan. The former had been shot in the neck and the latter in the leg and arm. All three were taken to a hospital. O'Brien refused to explain why the other two attacked him. The police think the affray was the outcome of a feud in a notorious West Side gang.
